'US to take resolute steps to support Taiwan against China's intimidation'

PTM WASHINGTON

China's actions to "intimidate and coerce" Taiwan following US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's visit to Taipei are fundamentally at odds with the goal of peace and stability, the White House has said, asserting that the US would take "calm and resolute" steps to support the self-ruled island.

China's ruling Communist party has long claimed sovereignty over Taiwan. Beijing insists its "one-China principle" would bar most countries from sending government officials from setting foot on the island. The People's Liberation Army announced war games in the busy Taiwan Strait from August 4 to 7, the day after Pelosi, who is the highest-ranking US leader to have visited Taiwan in 25 years, left Taipei after high-level meetings.

Later, the Chinese military extended the war games, surrounding Taiwan, which Beijing views as a rebel province that must be reunified with the mainland, even by force.

China on Wednesday warned that Beijing will unleash regular combat patrols as a new normal to enforce its one-China policy.

"China's actions are fundamentally at odds with the goal of peace and stability. They are part of an intensified pressure campaign against Taiwan, which has not ended, and we expect it to continue to unfold in the coming weeks and months," Kurt Campbell, Deputy Assistant to the President and Coordinator for the Indo-Pacific, told reporters during a conference call.

The goal of this campaign is clear — to intimidate and coerce Taiwan and undermine its resilience," he said.

"The US, he said, will "continue to take calm and resolute steps to uphold peace and stability in the face of Beijing's ongoing efforts to undermine it," and to support Taiwan, in line with its longstanding policy.

China sending fighter jets to Thailand for joint exercises

AP BANGKOK

The Chinese air force is sending fighter jets and bombers to Thailand for a joint exercise with the Thai military on Sunday.

The training will include air support, strikes and ground targets and small and large-scale troop deployment, the Chinese Defense Ministry said in a statement posted on its website.

China's expanding military activities in the Asia-Pacific region have alarmed the United States and its allies and form part of a growing competition between the world's two largest economies.

US Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin visited Thailand in June as part of an effort to strengthen what he called America's "unparalleled network of alliances and partnerships" in the region.

The Falcon Strike exercise will be held at the Udorn Royal Thai Air Force Base in northern Thailand near the border with Laos. Thai fighter jets and airborne early warning aircraft from both countries will also take part.

The training comes as the US holds combat drills in Indonesia with Indonesia, Australia, Japan and Singapore in the latest iteration of the Super Garuda Shield exercise since they began in 2009.

It also follows China's sending warships, missiles and aircraft into the waters and air around Taiwan in a threatening response to a visit by US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi to the self-ruled island, which China claims as its territory.

GOP backs Trump, escalates dark rhetoric after FBI search

AP WASHINGTON

Republicans in Congress who are voting on Donald Trump to excite voters in the fall elections are not only defending the former president against the FBI search of his Mar-a-Lago home but politically capitalising on it with grave and potentially dangerous rhetoric against the nation's justice system.

The party that once stood staunchly for law-and-order has dramatically reversed course, stirring up opposition to the FBI and tapping into political grievances and far-right conspiracies that led the deadly January 6, 2021, attack on the US Capitol.

It's all part of the GOP's election year strategy to harness voter outrage over the unprecedented search, quickly and unequivocally set in motion as Trump hosted a dozen Republicans for dinner of steak and scallops at his private Redemptorist club the day after the FBI action.

One Republican at the table, Rep. Troy Nehls of Texas, a former sheriff, said he told the former president "loud and clear" that it's time to protect himself politically by declaring his 2024 campaign for the presidency.

"Mr. President, I said, the American people, your supporters, are concerned with this corrupt DOJ and the FBI."

"If I were you, sir, announce you're running for president," Nehls recalled telling Trump. "Take that doubt, take that anxiety away from the people that want you to be our 47th president."

The escalating rhetoric comes amid stark warnings of violence against law enforcement, including the Ohio police shooting on Thursday of an armed man clad in body armour who tried to breach the FBI's Cincinnati office and engaged in an hours-long standoff.

The day before, FBI Director Christopher Wray had called the threats to agents and DOJ "deplorable".

Praise, worry in Iran after Rushdie attack; Govt quiet

AP TEHRAN

Iranians reacted with praise and worry on Saturday over the attack on novelist Salman Rushdie, the target of a decades-old fatwa by the late Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini calling for his death.

It remains unclear why Rushdie's attacker, identified by police as Hadi Matar of Fairview, New Jersey, stabbed the author as he prepared to speak at an event on Friday in western New York.

PTM NEW YORK

Iran's theocratic government and its state-run media have assigned no motive to the assault. But in Tehran, some willing to speak to The Associated Press offered praise for an attack targeting a writer they believe tarnished the Islamic faith with his 1988 book "The Satanic Verses".

In the streets of Iran's capital, images of the late Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini still peer down at passers-by.

"I don't know Salman Rushdie, but I am happy to hear that he was attacked since he insulted Islam," said Reza Amir, a 27-year-old delivery man. "This is the face for anybody who insults sanctities."

Others, however, worried about that Iran could become even more cut off from the world as tensions run high over its nuclear deal deal.

"I feel those who did it are trying to isolate Iran," said Mahdi Barati, a 38-year-old lawyer. "This will negatively affect relations with many — even Russia and China."

Khomeini, in poor health in the last year of his life, after the grinding, stalemate 1980s Iran-Iraq war declared the country's economy, issued the fatwa on Rushdie in 1989.

The Islamic edict came amid a violent uproar in the Muslim world over the novel, which was viewed as blasphemously making suggestions about the Prophet Muhammad's life.

"I would like to inform all the intrepid Muslims in the world that the author of the book entitled 'Satanic Verses' ... As well as those publishers who were aware of its contents, are hereby sentenced to death," Khomeini said in February 1989, according to a media report.

Rushdie, who faced Islamic death threats for years after writing "The Satanic Verses", was stabbed on stage on Friday while he was being introduced at the event of the Chautauqua Institution in western Pennsylvania.

A bloodied Rushdie was airlifted from a field adjacent to the venue to a hospital in north-western Pennsylvania.

Stabber showed sympathy to causes of Iran's Revolutionary Guards: Report

PTM NEW YORK

The 24-year-old man who was in connection with the stabbing of Mumbai-born author Salman Rushdie was sympathetic to "Shia extremism" and the causes of Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps, according to a media report.

Rushdie, who faced Islamic death threats for years after writing "The Satanic Verses", was stabbed on stage on Friday while he was being introduced at the event of the Chautauqua Institution in western Pennsylvania.

Russia blocking access to medicines, says Ukrainian Min

AP KYIV

Ukraine's health minister has accused Russian authorities of committing a crime against humanity by blocking access to affordable medicines in areas its forces have occupied since invading the country 5 1/2 months ago.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Ukrainian Health Minister Viktor Leshko said Russian authorities repeatedly have blocked efforts to provide state-subsidised drugs to people in occupied cities, towns and villages.

"Throughout the entire six months of war, Russia has not (allowed) proper humanitarian corridors so we could provide our own medicines to the patients that need them," Leshko said, speaking at the Health Ministry in Kyiv late on Friday.
